Letters: Petri's credit card bill protects students

Thank you for your May 12th editorial endorsing a bill which I cosponsored with Rep. Patrick Murphy, D-Pa., to help students avoid credit card traps by requiring credit card companies to disclose their connections to colleges and alumni associations. On May 20, the House passed a credit card bill of rights containing protections for all card holders. Previously approved by the Senate, the bill next goes to the President's desk. Thanks to an amendment offered by Sen. Herb Kohl and others, this bill of rights includes the provisions Rep. Murphy and I first advocated in the House.
